

Lorenzo Mulè Stagno – Personal Development Tutor

Lorenzo is the Associate for Henley Business School in Malta and the Managing Director of Allied Consultants. He holds a MBA (2004), and a teaching degree from the University of Malta. He also holds a Post Graduate Certificate for Online Facilitation, and is currently completing a Post Graduate Certificate in Coaching both from Henley Business School. His combination of business and educational backgrounds come in handy for his role as Programme Director of the Henley MBA. Lorenzo has lead workshops and seminars for the last 5 years in a range of business related subjects to various executives and managers within SME's and public institutions. He is a Henley approved tutor and delivers courses on Personal Development and Strategic Marketing. He is also a Personal Tutor on the Henley MBA, and has delivered lectures on Leadership at Vlerick Leuven Ghent Management School in Belgium and in Intercultural Communications at the University of Malta.

Lorenzo was chosen as Malta's Entrepreneur of the year 2010 by the European Commission, from a number of candidates nominated from Malta. While in Brussels, he was also invited to be a key note speaker in a roundtable debate on educational issues organised by Generation Europe Foundation and the European Confederation of Young Entrepreneurs in cooperation with DG Enterprise and Industry.
